WILL WAGER LIFE AGAINST GOLD

Ora G. Clossen, the "Lee Humiston" of Kansas, has decided to cast his lot with the eastern board track speed kings of the motorcycle, and leave Chanute tonight. He goes to Coffeyville for a few days and then direct to Chicago where he will join the racing circuit.

While in the amateur class Clossen has met such well known racers as Wells Brunett, Paul Warner, Walter Higley, Roy Goode and John Hill, and they acknowledge him to be a remarkable rider, and is regarded by them as a dangerous rival for honors at any meet. Clossen is often spoken as the "headiest" rider in Kansas. Roy Goode, who is now a member of the Indian racing team riding on eastern tracks, is the authority for the statement, his command of the motorcycle is the most wonderful that he has ever seen a semi-professional have.

Chanute as well as Coffeyville will watch Clossen's efforts with great interest, and wish him the greatest success.
